Description of School

Bucknell University offers more than 50 majors and 65 minors in the arts, engineering, humanities, management, sciences and social sciences. At Bucknell, you will connect with your professors as mentors and as innovators in their fields, engage critically with diverse perspectives, learn to write well, present your ideas and apply what you learn. Most undergraduate students live on campus in an active, close-knit community. Visiting scholars and speakers come to Bucknell regularly, including world-class musicians, actors, scientists, writers and more. Students practice leadership skills through in-and-out of class involvement and frequently serve communities locally, nationally and internationally. They secure summer internships, study abroad, and, as alumni, live and work all over the world.
