Description of School

Butler University is a private, liberal arts based school of 5,000 total students offering numerous professional programs, highly focused on experiential learning. We are located in the heart of the 14th largest city in the country, approximately 5 miles from downtown Indianapolis in a beautiful park-like setting.

The biggest reason to consider Butler is that we emphasize learning by doing. That means that, for every ounce of energy you put into your education, you'll receive even more in return. And while you're here, you'll be surrounded by students and faculty that are invested in your success because it's tied to theirs. Everyone here realizes that our success is interconnected, and that is at the heart of everything we do.
