Description of School

Founded in 1874, Macalester prepares students to succeed around the world. The student body is among the most globally diverse of any American liberal arts college. Students come to Macalester from over 90 different countries in order to join a dynamic academic community where they will be encouraged to apply what they are learning to address the major problems that confront the world. Macalester offers more than 60 areas of study in the natural sciences, mathematics, the social sciences, the humanities and the arts. The most popular majors include Biology, Computer Science, Economics, International Studies, Math, and Political Science. After graduation students attend top graduate schools and pursue successful careers in a wide variety of fields.
