Description of School

The University of Illinois is a large, public, 4-year university, and serves as the flagship institution for the state of Illinois. As a public, land-grant institution, we focus on creating new knowledge and ideas through research. Illinois is home to approximately 33,000 undergraduate students, with a total student body population of 44,000. The students at Illinois come from all 50 states and over 100 different countries. Illinois has 21 NCAA Division I sports teams and we are part of the Big Ten Conference.
