Description of School

Richmond is the only university with a Spider mascot, but that's not all that sets us apart. We're a liberal arts school at our core, seamlessly integrating arts and sciences, business, leadership studies, and even law, into the undergraduate curriculum. We breed critical thinkers and smart workers with the skills demanded by today's employers and graduate schools. Within six months of graduation, 94 percent are employed. We offer the resources of a large research university, but the intimacy of a small college. Millions in faculty research grants, and plenty of chances for students to work alongside. An 8:1 student-faculty ratio and mentors for life. Summer internship or research funding for every undergraduate - guaranteed. We're private, but also affordable. Financial need isn't a factor in admissions decisions. And then we pay 100% of what the family cannot. Our students come from - and go to - every part of the world, but they'll always have a home on our beautiful suburban campus. We're just six miles from, and deeply connected to, the dynamic capital city we call home - Richmond, Virginia.
