Description of School

Founded in 1848, the University of Wisconsin-Madison is a large public university that is consistently ranked among the top research universities in the country. The beautiful campus sits on an isthmus between two lakes and spans 936 acres. The campus features over 43,300 students (29,500 undergraduates) from all 50 states and more than 120 countries. Eight undergraduate schools and colleges offer 140 majors and 60 certificate programs. The average class size is just 29 students, and the student/faculty ratio is 20:1.
